S1. Ans.(b)

Sol. The statement which contains false information is the statement (ii).

This statement is false because the last paragraph says "This abundance of synthetic fertiliser has boosted crop yields and helped to feed people around the globe, but this surplus nitrate and ammonium comes with environmental costs."

Statement (i) is true because the third paragraph says "Today, scientists are looking at several ways to treat the soil or adjust farming practices to cut back on N₂O production."

Statement (iii) can be proven correct because the second paragraph mentions "Yet molecule for molecule, N₂O is about 300 times as potent as carbon dioxide at heating the atmosphere."

S2. Ans.(d)

Sol. Both option (a) and (c) are the answer to this question. They are mentioned in the second paragraph "And like CO₂, it is long-lived, spending an average of 114 years in the sky before disintegrating. It also depletes the ozone layer."

S3. Ans.(c)

Sol. The answer is mentioned early on in the passage where it says "Also known as laughing gas, N₂O does not get nearly the attention it deserves,.....".

S4. Ans.(b)

Sol. The answer can be found in the last line of the second paragraph saying "Agricultural soil – especially because of the globe's heavy use of synthetic nitrogen fertiliser – is the principal culprit."

The rest of the options do not mention the cause of the increase in levels of nitrogen or the options do not contain relevant information with reference to the information given in the passage.

S5. Ans.(e)

Sol. All of the given options delve into the core principles of the passage. The author begins by stating how N₂O is overlooked whenever the topic of greenhouse gas emissions is brought up, as carbon dioxide dominates the discussion. This is mentioned in option (b).

Further on, we are informed about how this leads to the ignorance on the policy makers part as well, as there exist no provisions to lessen the amount of N₂O, despite studies and data being available which states the amount of damage that is done to the environment due to the N₂O emissions. (Option a)

For option (c), refer to third paragraph which mentions, "Producing ammonia fertiliser accounts for about 1% of all global energy use and 1.4% of CO₂ emissions (the process requires heating nitrogen gas and subjecting it to pressures of up to 400 atmospheres, so it's very energy-intensive)."

This article also mentions that agricultural practices specifically are to be blamed for the majority of these emissions, rather than any other activity of the economy.

Total percentage marks obtained by all students in reasoning = 70% + 50% + 35% + 60% + 75% + 46% = 336%

So, average of reasoning = $\frac{336\%}{6} = 56\%$

Total percentage marks obtained by all students in English = 35% + 68% + 65% + 89% + 75% + 25% = 357%

So, average of English = $\frac{357\%}{6} = 59.5\%$

So, sum of both = 56% + 59.5% = 115.5%

S33. Ans.(c)Sol.

Total marks obtained by Shubham = 80% of 80 + 75% of 100 + 75% of 80 + 30% of 50
